SAFE HEALTH CENTER

Pregnant women in Lubira, Uganda must walk up to seven miles to Lubira Health Center to give birth. When they arrive, they are met with deplorable conditions—cracked walls, sagging ceilings, faulty plumbing, bat infestations, moldy mattresses, broken windows and low supplies. The community wants to fix these issues. We need your help to support their efforts.

SAFE MAMA

Women in Uganda have to overcome significant barriers to deliver their babies in health facilities. They often must walk miles to reach a birthing center, purchase their own medical supplies for their delivery and scrounge up materials to wrap and clothe their infants. They must also deal with the heavy costs of nutritious foods and emergency care. In total, the cost for a safe delivery and adequate maternal diet is roughly half of these women's average annual income. In exchange of your sponsorship of a Ugandan mother, you will receive a photo and personal letter from her.

SAFE NEWBORN

The birth of a new baby should be a cause for celebration, but tragically, newborns in Uganda are six times more likely to die than newborns in the US. Mothers in Uganda struggle to reach health facilities where they can deliver safely and to provide the basic supplies they need for a safe birth and healthy newborn. SAFE works extensively to solve problems like these. Help us protect the precious lives of Ugandan infants.

SAFE CHILD

In Uganda more than 50 percent of the population is under the age of 15, many of whom struggle with malnutrition. In partnership with local Ugandan families and communities, SAFE is improving nutrition through fortified peanut butter, community gardens, farm animals and innovative education conveyed through dramas and songs. We furnish supplies, tools, animals and training and families use those resources to eradicate child malnutrition from their communities. Help us ensure that every child is healthy and well-nourished.
